Flour Mill at Orangeville a Most Decided Success.

STRANGE COUPLE PASS THROUGH COALVILLE.

LOGAN JOURNAL'S VIEW OF FRANK J. CANNON.

Col. E. A. Wall—Mr. Penrose's Tour Through the South—Military in the North—A Tragedy at Brigham City—Marital Boom in Box Elder County—Crops in the North—Coming to Salt Lake—General Glimpse.

Last week when the Orangeville flour mill made its initial run, every man in the town was on hand to get a sack of flour for trial. So far the mill is a success, as the flour turned out is first-class. We congratulate the people of Orangeville on being the first in this valley to establish such an enterprise.—Price Telegraph.

The total business for this station for September was $6,417.32, an increase of almost 100 per cent over the same month last year. There were 690 tons of freight handled here during the month.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid.

Last Friday night C. W. Penrose elegantly expounded the principles of Democracy to an appreciative audience. Some said next morning they could not see how anyone could be a Republican after hearing him.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid.

The Democrats made no mistake in naming Colonel E. A. Wall, of Ophir, as one of their candidates for the constitutional delegateships. The colonel is a very popular gentleman and one well fitted for the duties of the office for which he has been nominated. His enterprise and business ability has been the salvation of Ophir since the hard times set in, and very few votes will be cast against him there. Elsewhere in the county he will have a strong personal following, and there is no doubt but that he will run way ahead of his ticket.—Mercur Mercury.

Quite a blizzard raged in these mountains Sunday evening and Monday morning and snow fell to the depth of several inches.—Mercur Mercury.

A couple of strange looking people passed through Coalville on horseback last Saturday. One was dressed as a woman, but it is thought this was only a disguise, as several say they caught glimpses of a man's pants under the wrapper of the rider; besides, the feet of this creature, who was described as being of huge proportions, was strapped on behind each rider, and the horses looked fazed and bewildered. They were riding in a hurry, headed towards Echo.—Times.

Along about the end of the present month the Logan and Richmond companies of militia will be officially inspected by Adjutant-General Ottlinger and Colonel Tatlock, of Salt Lake. The exact date has not yet been definitely settled, but it is proposed to make the occasion of the inspection a military parade and music. It is hoped also that the Hyrum and Wellsville companies will be ready to muster in.—Journal.

Frank J. Cannon is pledged to the policy of his national party regardless of western interests. Joseph L. Rawlins is pledged to the interests of Utah and will fight the great men of the east, in behalf of his constituents. Cannon has already surrendered to the gold bugs of the east. Rawlins has already met and fought them. Both have records on this matter.—Logan Journal.

Quite a large crowd assembled at the Assembly hall last night to hear Mr. Penrose. As Mr. Penrose is one of the best orators in Utah, and he understood his subject thoroughly, the audience was not disappointed. There were many things said, which were not strictly favorable to Republicans, but the orator was so reasonable, and we have heard more than one state that he explained his subject better than any they had ever heard before, and the Democrats have gained by his speech.—Manti Sentinel.

Judith Rhodes is a fine speaker, and as he built his argument from the ground up, his work was not in vain. Many voters are thinking his argument over, and a election they will show up good reasons. We commend him to the Democrats of Sanpete. The judge is all right.—Manti Sentinel.

She is barely 16 years of age, having recently emigrated from Europe, leaving fond parents behind. Poor yielding girl, she fell! Her seducer was a young devil, who has the name of having lately played capper to beauty. Friends for a week of circus thieves here, and was afterwards caught out by them without pay for his dirty work. The fellow was forced to marry his victim last Friday. God pity poor girl! The devil take such foul betrayers.—Brigham Bugler.

Marriage licenses have recently been issued by Box Elder County Clerk Stahl to the following persons: James Burbank, age 21, and Miss Corilla Loveland, age 19, both of Deweville.

William Ritzel, age 22, of Evansville, Ind., and Ella Holgate, age 21, of Brigham City.

Jonathan C. Crawford, age 17, and Amy Harris, age 18, both of Brigham City.

Wilford A. Stevenson, age 22, of Fielding, and Adelaide Johnson, age 21, of Collinston.

The following is the latest weather report from Box Elder county towns: Grouse Creek—Second crop lucern nearly all in stack. Threshing just commenced. Deweville—If the weather continues good for another week it will ripen the most of the alfalfa seed, which is growing very well. Plymouth—Farmers busy sowing winter wheat, with a large percentage up, and looking fine, with prospects better than for years. Brigham—Dry and pleasant. Flowing, sowing fall grain, and harvesting third crop of lucern the main work. Drying of fruit successful; crop abundant.—Bugler.

Sunday, Mrs. M. E. Snow and daughter Birdie left for Salt Lake, where they will stay for the winter. Miss Snow will attend the University of Utah.—Brigham Bugler.

The marriage ceremony of James P. Driscoll and Miss Mary Deprezin was solemnized at the Catholic church on Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. Father Donahue tied the nuptial knot and the chosen few had the honor of being present were: Captain and Mrs. Deprezin, Mrs. Donnelly, Miss Jane Martin and John Driscoll. The happy couple departed for Salt Lake on the Rio Grande train immediately after the ceremony, where they will remain for some time. The Minister tendered congratulations.—Tintie Miner.

In his speech at Moroni last week Frank Cannon said that "God gave us statehood." What he neglected to state was that God had been willing to grant statehood for many years, but it was not until a Democratic administration controlled the affairs of the nation that He found servants willing to carry out His wishes.—Ephraim Enterprise.

If Cannon gets an cool reception in other towns as he got in Moroni he will be prepared for the chilly weather on November 7.—Ephraim Enterprise.

The Blade has not space to publish the correspondence which passed between the Salt Lake Tribune and President Woodruff relative to same of the latter's public remarks at Provo recently, wherein he denounced lying and scandalous language in politics. The correspondence to above was doubtless a strained effort on the part of the Tribune to pose as the great Utah watchdog over the Mormon people. It is to be hoped the "denial" which the Tribune has been allayed and that no more Mormon nightmares will disturb its virtuous slumber.—Millard County Blade.

Etc. Etc.

A society woman is responsible for the statement that a young woman who will wear yellow garters will be married within a year. This hint is furnished gratis to our enterprising dry goods firms.

A number of my M. D. friends were discussing, last evening, the petty annoyances to which they are subjected; how they are frequently called long distances at night, to the most unreasonable errands. I take it that none of them are averse to earning a fee as a rule, but there are, no doubt, times when they would rather remain snugly tucked up in bed than be called, especially when the case is of no importance whatever.

As a sample one of them produced the following clipping. It was faded and torn, and suggested frequent use: An eminent physician was called out of a sound slumber the other night to answer the telephone.

"Hello! what is it?" he asked, little pleased with the idea of leaving his bed.

"Baby is crying, doctor—what shall I do?" came across the wires.

"Oh, perhaps it's a pin," recognizing the voice of the young mother—one of his patients.

"No," was the reply; "I'm sure it can't be that."

"Perhaps it's his teeth," returned the doctor with well simulated solicitude.

"No I don't think so," replied the anxious mother; "he wouldn't cry like that."

"Then perhaps he's hungry," said the doctor, as a last resort.

"Oh, I'll see," came across the wires—then was still and the doctor went back to bed and was soon asleep again. About half an hour afterwards he was again awakened by the violent ringing of the telephone bell.

"Jumping Jehu," he exclaimed, placing the receiver to his ear, he was cheered by the following message:

"You were right, doctor; baby was hungry."

Ray Raymond, special correspondent of one of the greatest papers west of the Missouri river, The Salt Lake Herald, was in town a short time on Tuesday. Mr. Raymond's spicy writings are making the occasion of his visit a paper itself. His engagements look him away the same day he arrived, but it is his intention to return in about ten days to spend some time with us and to cur our town and neighborhood country.

Mr. Raymond was greatly impressed with the wonderful natural resources of this section and the promising prospects of Idaho Falls, and, during his next visit he will, in one of his celebrated letters to The Herald, make known to the world what he shall observe during his visit.—Idaho Falls Times.

The Herald quartette has developed into one of the features of the present campaign.

The Rawlins button is out. Let it appear on the lapel of every Democrat in this territory; let it stand, as it should, as a grateful remembrance of good deeds done to our fair territory; let it fitly be worn by men, women and children. Let them all honor the "Moses of Utah."

In the language of Hon. Heber J. Grant—and he sums up the situation much better than could words of mine—"I feel a debt of gratitude to the magnificence of liberty he has secured for the people of this territory. In my opinion, can be paid only by the votes of every Utah born and bred boy, and of every voter who loves liberty, being cast for him—also a Utah born and bred Utah raised boy."

The following extract from a letter alleged to have been sent to the Chicago Record, is being widely circulated by country Republican papers. It certainly places some very prominent gentlemen in an unenviable light, to say the least:

"The proclamation of President Cleveland granting amnesty to Mormons who have been convicted of polygamy under the Edmunds law, is regarded as a 'dead horse' out here, to use the local parlance. It excites very little interest, as it is recognized as a scheme of Governor West and the Democratic members of the Utah commission to capture a few Mormon votes at the approaching election. President Harrison issued a similar proclamation in January, 1883, but coupled with it a condition that those who accepted his pardon and returned their rights as citizens, shall in the future faithfully observe the laws of the United States hereinafter named—that is, the anti-polygamy laws. President Cleveland repeats nine-tenths of those accepted conditions and renews the amnesty without any condition whatever. This will be an advantage to very few people, and a precession of sympathy for the Mormon by the president of the United States, with the hope that it will induce some of them to vote the Democratic ticket."

believe in protective tariff and in the encouragement of industries by bounties. In fact, the Mormon church has always taught the doctrine of a home market and has applied the principle to the protection of its own members against the competition of outside rivals.

"I think, too," continued Mr. Cannon, "that the majority of the twelve apostles are Republicans." Then he proceeded to enumerate them on his fingers: Mr. Richards, Democrat; Mr. Brigham Young, Jr., Republican; Mr. Thatcher, Democrat; Mr. Lyman, Republican; Mr. Smith, Republican; Mr. Grant, Democrat; Mr. Merrill, Republican; Mr. Lund, Republican; Apostle Teasdale is in Mexico in charge of the colony there, and Brother Taylor is in Canada, so that their politics is not known."

In the first place, I don't believe that George O. Cannon made any such a statement. I believe he is too honorable to stoop to any such thing. If he did not, then the doctrine he owes to himself and his followers to deny it.

The Price Telegraph claims to have "gone over to the party of Lincoln." It should remember that shortly before his death, Lincoln said: "We may all congratulate ourselves that the cruel war is nearing its close. 'It has, indeed, been a trying hour for the republic.'"

"But I see in the near future a crisis arising that unnerves me and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country."

"As a result of the war, corporations have been enthroned and an era of corruption in high places will follow. 'The money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until all wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the republic destroyed.'"

"I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of my country than ever before, even in the midst of the war."

For Violating the Sunday Closing Ordinance—A Cloud of Witnesses Rounded Up by the Officers.

It was a warm day for the breakers of the Sunday-closing act, and as a result of a crusade inaugurated by Chief of Police Pratt, $500 additional is contained in the safe at the police station, representing the cash bonds of eight saloonkeepers whose regard for the territorial statute governing the sale of liquors was very slight. The chief has for some months been firm in the determination to suppress the Sunday liquor traffic, and strict orders were given to the members of the department to enforce the closing statute. This has been very generally done, but some of the saloon would have seemed the very bold of late, and a double attack was made upon the particularly offensive ones yesterday. Of course there were many who escaped, but after 2 o'clock drinks were few and far between.

Early in the day the off-duty members of the department, acting under special orders, and in citizens' attire, began the watch, going in pairs. They were cautioned to look out for the hotel bars, and the first offender arrested was the bartender at the Templeton bar. Then followed in rapid succession the arrests of J. G. Park, of the Knutsford bar; R. H. Bechtel, of the Walker House bar; R. H. Riley, of the "Elite"; Mike Fitzgerald, of the "Falcon"; Clem Horsely, of the "75"; John Bentrod, of Morris Livingston's "Count"; at the corner of State and Fourth South; John O. Donohue, of Pete Nystrom's resort. All of the parties put up the required $100 cash bonds. At each saloon a group of witnesses was captured and a number of cases bonded were required of the drinkers. As soon as the word went rapidly around that the crusade was on, the many saloons over which the Sunday liquor was being dispensed, closed with alacrity, blinds were drawn, and the places were vacated. During the entire day the police were watching closely, and more arrests were scheduled.

While they do not deny the righteousness of the raid, the city saloon men are registering a mighty complaint against the manner in which the county saloons are allowed to run. The latter resorts, although only a short distance outside of the city limits, are never closed.
